2022 CALENDAR WORKING THE LAND, COOLING THE PLANET

The Theme

Our sell out calendar is back. With the spotlight on the climate, this year's theme is Working the Land, Cooling the Planet, showcasing 12 diverse solutions to help us avert catastrophe, and build the world we know is possible.

Artwork

Each story is accompanied by an original artwork, once again created by Rosanna Morris - the renowned artist behind our last three sell-out calendars, and are beautifully reproduced onto 100% recycled paper.

STAND UP NOW THE LWA ALBUM

This amazing collation of 15 songs collates traditional and original music gathered from the farms, woods and cities of our contested nation, and stands in a proud tradition of peoples' music and peoples' history. Recorded in the cold wet spring of 2021, these fifteen songs raise the eternal themes of our present and of our past; love, liberty and the struggles of labour.

Stand Up Now includes recordings from Robin Grey, The Norfolk Broads, Ewan McClennan and many more. It includes contemporary stories such as Owen Shiers' ballad of the community farm Trecadwegan, as well as timeless classics

2022 WALLPLANNER

The Planner

If there wasn't enough date-based organisation to be had with the calendar, this year we are excited to have also produced a 2022 wall planner as well. Printed A1 on high quality recycled paper, the planner will arrive folded for easy storage.

Artwork

The wall planner was designed by Dorset-based artist Lauren Marina, in a brand new collaboration for the LWA. Lauren's work incorporates natural forms and a bold, monochrome style.
